Part 1: New in Town

Question 5

Class Performance

How did Patriots respond to the Townshend Acts, which levied taxes on goods imported from England to the colonies? 60% correct

- ✓ All of the above. 3/5
- ✗ Patriot merchants agreed not to import any goods from England until Parliament repealed the Townshend Acts. 1/5
- ✗ Patriots boycotted Loyalist merchants who continued to import and sell goods from England. 0/5
- ✗ Some Patriots harassed the Redcoats guarding the Customs House and pelted them with snowballs. 1/5

Teaching Tip

Boston's Patriots protested and resisted the Townshend Acts in a variety of ways that students likely observed while playing the Prologue and Part 1. As Nat experiences his first day in Boston, he witnesses the conflict between Patriot merchants who are refusing to import English goods and Loyalist merchants who continue to do so. They may also have spoken with the Redcoat guarding the Customs House, who complains about being pelted by snowballs, foreshadowing the escalation of Patriot protests to come.
